

Tell Us Your Clayton Story!

Everyone has a story - about the old streetcar or about their favorite hang-out places during high school. These are the brief stories that convey special moments in time. And we want to hear them! We would like to collect everyone's story, so we can share them with future generations.

I hereby give permission to the Clayton History Society to publish my personal story, including my name and optional photographs, in connection with the Clayton Oral History Project.
